LABOR AUTHORITY SAYS STRIKES ARE TO BE EXCEPTION

At Time When Labor Troubles Are Pressing United States Commissioner of Labor Makes Statement.

[BY UNITED PRESS.] Washington, D. C., May 3.—Prophecy that the time is not far distant when strikes will be the exception and mediation the rule in labor disputes is voiced in a statement written for the United Press by Dr. Charles P. Neill, United States Commissioner of Labor. As one of the mediators authorized under the Erdman act, Dr. Neill has served in more than fifty important disputes between employers and employees. His statement follows: "Thirteen years ago the Federal congress, awake to the fact that a strike was the most unfortunate possible way to settle a labor dispute, and so it did what it could to provide a remedy. It passed an act providing a means of mediation and arbitration in all industrial controversies arising between interstate railroads and employees engaged in train operation.

"The act was in advance of its time. The first attempt to use provisions shortly after its passage failed. Since that time there has been a steady growth in the conviction that the more ready resort to a test of strength embodied in a strike or lockout was about the least satisfactory, if not the most barbarous way that could be devised for adjusting a labor controversy. The law has since been successfully applied in over fifty cases, and the experience of the past five years under this act suggest that the time is ripe for a considerable extension of its principles to embrace all fields of labor; and to arrange for mediation and conciliation in all industrial disputes, for for voluntary arbitration were the former two are not successful.

"It is useless to close our eyes to the fact that questions will always arise upon which no agreement is possible and in which the final settlement can only come through the test of brute strength.

"But while it is futile to expect the entire elimination of strikes in any immediate future they can be so minimized as to become the rare exception. Mediation is the method, and I believe the present trend of both capital and labor is in that direction."

Lost and Found Wants

Ever read the Lost and Found items in the Wants? Likewise you are interested in watching the Lost and Found Wants, or inserting an item when you find something that you know is valuable to the loser.

Think of the great convenience of the Want Columns—how else could you reach so many people, so quickly in case you lose or find some article of value.

Many other classifications of the Wants are equally as vital in their influence to hundreds of readers as the facts that are listed under the caption "Lost and Found."

You'll find a practical demonstration of locating the right thing at the right time and at a minimum cost if you consult the Gazette Want Ads frequently.

SWEAR THAT DIETZ'S SHOT KILLED HARP ON WITNESS STAND

Companions of Deputy Killed in Siege of Cabin Swear He Was Dropped by First Shot Fired From Cabin.

[BY UNITED PRESS.] Hayward, Wis., May 3.—John Pomle and William Bunka, deputy sheriffs, companions of Deputy Harp, the dead deputy, have made affidavits that they saw John Dietz fire many shots from his barn roof during the famous Cameron dam fight. Through this testimony the state will attempt to prove Dietz killed Harp.

Pomle and Bunka claim they were with Harp when he was shot, when all three were crawling toward the Dietz cabin. They claim Harp dropped at the first shot fired by Dietz. District Attorney Williams made a mild address to the jury at 9 a. m., the opening of the trial today. He said in part that the sole interest the state had in view was to ascertain the truth and the whole truth.

Ex-Sheriff Madden and Deputy Pomle took the witness stand today and related the details of the memorable fight at the Dietz cabin. Their testimony tended to establish that Deputy Harp came to his death by a shot from the Dietz family. John Dietz directed a rapid fire cross examination at Madden and Pomle for fifteen minutes but failed to alter the testimony.

Leslie and Mrs. Dietz also cross-examined the witnesses.

Deputy Pomle first took the stand and related how he and Bunka and Harp advanced on the cabin on Sheriff Madden's orders. Harp falling after a rush of smoke from the Dietz farm, Ex-Sheriff Madden who led the force of 25 deputies against the Dietz cabin took the stand at ten o'clock. He related the details of the memorable battle, the attempt of the Governor and attorney general to surrender peacefully the battle of the cabin and the surrender of Dietz.

He testified that he found eight high power rifles in the cabin after the surrender and empty shells strewn about the house and barn, indicating that other members of the family had joined in the fight.

The state examined its witnesses with lightning speed today and cross-examination took but little time. The district attorney said at noon today he believed the case will be in the hands of the jury in four days.

Janesville High School Not To Be Represented In Track Meet Or Oratorical Contest At Beloit College.

Although Janesville has received an invitation to participate in the Inter-Scholastic track meet and oratorical contest to be held at Beloit May 8, she will not be represented so far as is now known. This meet and contest is an annual event.

The local high has excellent material from which to pick a team, for nearly all of the local "Y's" runners are high school men. Many of them have made good records in the mile, 4:50 and 5:10, being a common record. Still Janesville, because of a lack of organization and a leader will not be represented in the meet.

George Zahn represented the school in the oratorical contest last year. He planned to enter this year, but for some unknown reason he has decided not to. And so the Janesville high school will have to make do and take notice this year because of a lack of unity on the part of the school.

THEATER

GOLLMAR BROTHERS' CIRCUS.

This is an age of immense proportions, the scale of every project is being constantly enlarged. This is certainly true of the circus business.

The sleeping cars of a circus are fitted with stationary bunks that cannot be folded away, as in the Pullman. They are more comfortable and comfortable than those in the Pullman.

An extra sleeper is required because of the many performers and musicians and their too, is a stateroom car, and cost in the neighborhood of $5,000. In order that they might prevail upon certain performers, who had never travelled with a circus to join his galaxy of stars, the Gollmar Brothers have had several stateroom cars built. If the readers could look in upon the occupants of these cottages on wheels, they would be surprised by the homelike appearance of the furnishings, the shelves of books and magazines, the cozy corners and the bric-a-brac. It all tends to make the life of the performers a pleasant one, but it is a very expensive undertaking for the circus manager.

About the only complaint heard of the Gollmar Brothers show last season was that it was too large. There was too much of it. In spite of this, the magnitude of this show will be more bewildering than ever this year.

In order to secure the superior talent, the new and original acts to be seen with the Gollmar Brothers circus, it was necessary to offer for this year alone, there should be an outlay of $30,000 above the allotted amount. When this modern great tented enterprise visits Janesville the universal verdict will be that such performers are entitled to all the comforts of home.

ROUNDHOUSE FORCE IS NOW INCREASED

Addition of Force of Nine Or Ten New Men Indicates Improvement in Business Conditions.

Within the past few days there have been nine or ten men added to the shop force at the roundhouse. This is taken as an indication that business is improving and that conditions are favorable for more work in the immediate future. Among those that have been added are: John King, machinist; Guy Tobin, machinist; Joseph Smith, boiler-maker; Herbert Conner, boiler-maker's helper; Louis Honig, painter; Frank St. John has been added to the night force and three other men have been assigned to other positions. It is planned at present to increase the force of machinists by adding two more, making a total of eight, and to employ one more boiler-maker, making a total of three employed at this work.

Other indications of more flourishing conditions in the railroad business is the fact that during the month of April seven engines received a general overhauling at the local shops. They are now in good condition and on the road. This is a good record for work at this season of the year. The engines repaired were: numbers, 51, 88, 282, 1475, 167, 1742 and 294.

On account of the recent cold weather the hot bull game between creek mines of the shops and yard office was postponed until tomorrow afternoon. It is expected that Frank Miller will relieve Dulin in the pitcher's box for the yard office nine.

Engine number 50 has been assigned for regular service on the Harrington turnaround run, with Engineer Dudley and Fireman Wilke.

Engineer Coor and Fireman Ashby took the second section of train 506 out of here to Chicago yesterday and returned last night.

Conductor W. Saxe is laying off and has gone to Fond du Lac, where his brother is seriously ill. He is being relieved on the way freight by Conductor D. Huddle of Harvard.

Conductor Dave Griffin of the shop car, sometimes called the Sunset Limited, is laying off and being relieved by Conductor John O'Brien.

Switchman Roy Horn is off duty and is being relieved by Switchman Ed. Horn with the half and half engine.

Engineer Wilke and Fireman Walters went out on 578 Monday night and returned on 591 this morning.

Edw. Sullivan, formerly night caller at the freight house, has been employed as machinist helper at the roundhouse.

Engines 1400, 1401 and 591 have been sent to Cary, Ill., where they will do service in the gravel pits.

Numerous positions are held out for Engineers and Firemen on work trains at Cary, Ill., and other points.

Conductor John McCarthy is on the Harrington turnaround in place of Conductor Parry.

Engineer Arthur Lauch has returned to work at the coal shed after spending the past few days in Milwaukee.

Arthur Lang was employed at the roundhouse last Saturday, but was compelled to give up the work on account of illness. He is in Milwaukee.

Walter Wilke, familiarly known as "Happy," caught 394 at the yards the other morning with the intention of riding to the city. Determined to get

Master Mechanic Alexander of this district, was a visitor at the local shops yesterday.

Roundhouse Foreman George P. Hennessey was in Rockford yesterday.

EDGERTON COUNCIL MET LAST EVENING

Petition Presented Asking Council to Stop Proceedings in Appeal of Stricker Bros.—Gottle City Attorney.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, May 3.—A session of the common council Tuesday night last, until midnight accomplished nothing of any importance. The matter of vacating Mechanic street was brought under discussion and was again referred to the committee for further investigation. C. A. Hoeh, C. E. Shannon and T. B. Earle were present and took part in the discussion.

A petition signed by one hundred and fifty taxpayers asking the council to stop proceedings in the appeal of the Stricker Bros. case to the supreme court was presented and action thereon deferred until the next meeting. Assemblyman L. E. Gottle was re-elected city attorney for another year and Dr. H. L. Cleary and August Dallman were chosen members of the board of health.

Sugar for Horses.

Good results are said to have been obtained in France from the feeding of sugar to overworked horses. Excessive strain and constant exhaustion as a result of slippery roads were lessened in those animals which were fed sugar daily. Some horses rendered unfit for service by overwork were restored to normal strength by a liberal mixture of sugar with their feed.—Our Dumb Animals Magazine.

Let us again impress you with the fact that these pianos are worth $375 each, but the club price is $277.50

Literally scores of these instruments have been sold right here in Janesville and surrounding counties at $375. Hundreds are being sold every month all over the United States at $375. They are worth $375.

The Skavlem Club is now being discussed by nearly every woman.

Measured by any standard of value you wish, they are worth $375. They are worth it on our floors, or on the floors of any reputable piano dealer in the country. The Skavlem Club price is $277.50. The price includes everything. There are no extras of any kind. Nothing to be added for drayage, scarf, stool, interest—absolutely no extras. Two hundred and seventy-seven dollars is the price, and the price includes everything, even to 218 week's time in which to pay for the piano.

$5.00 Cash Then 1.25 a week

No interest added to this

These pianos will be sold, $5.00 cash, then $1.25 a week. The $5.00 just about covers the cartage and delivering—yet the $5.00 payment made when you join the club is credited to your account.

The piano is delivered immediately. You do not have to wait until the club is filled. You get your piano when you join. The remainder is payable every week. Club members do not have to pay more than $1.25 a week if they wish. This gives them 218 weeks in which to pay for the piano, and still get it at the club price of $277.50.

The Piano Itself

The pianos are made by good German labor in the factory of one of the best piano manufacturing plants in the world.

The cases are made of fine selected mahogany, walnut and quartered oak. The inside is of bird's eye maple.

The keys are genuine ivory.

The strings are of best imported German wire.

The action is of the best Repeating type—very carefully regulated by as competent workmen as there are in the piano trade.

Our knowledge of the instrument is based on an experience running back over Fifty Years—not on faith or hearsay—and it is from that experience we are willing to give the unreserved, unconditional guarantee that we do, the equal of which has never before been given on any piano, it matters not what its merits.

"I know a New Orleans dealer, a very prominent piano man, who sells about 250 of these pianos a year. He sells them in New Orleans, throughout Louisiana and all along the Gulf Coast, which is known to be the most trying climate in this country to pianos on account of the heat and dampness, and he has had as satisfactory experience with them as I have had—what more can be said?"

THE SPEAKING TRUST.

While they are reforming all the evils that exist in congress, while the insurgents would revolutionize the methods of procedure and the democratic majority of the House would install their own antiquated ideas, they propose to throttle for good and for all the "Speaking Trust."

The Christian Science Monitor says of this interesting reform:

"The other day in the House of Representatives at Washington ex-Speaker Joseph Gurney Cannon of Illinois, consumed nearly four hours in an interesting, somewhat amusing, but rambling and utterly ineffectual speech in opposition to reciprocity. Some others of the older and more distinguished representatives have also been granted practically unlimited time in the course of the special session. On the other hand, certain representatives who have had on the points of their tongues many things which they would have liked to say, have either been refused the privileges of the floor absolutely, or have been permitted to occupy it barely long enough to get themselves warmed up to the point where they were beginning to show what they could do in the line of extemporaneous oratory."

"These facts or circumstances have attracted close attention in certain quarters. Representatives Lindbergh of Minnesota, for example, has been keeping a sharp eye upon Speaker Clark and he seems to have become convinced that there exists in the House of Representatives a trust or monopoly that determines who shall speak and how long, and who shall not speak at all. A resolution he has introduced puts it that a partial and monopolistic practice prevails in the House by designating certain so-called leaders to control the time and to discriminate in the distribution of time to their favorites, sometimes giving more than three hours to one of them, and frequently five minutes or less, or no time at all, to others."

"This is not the only cause for complaint. The old-time abuse of the 'leave-to-print' privilege continues, and this, also, Representative Lindbergh would have reformed. In one respect Mr. Lindbergh would curtail certain congressional privileges now enjoyed by all; in another he would enhance them. There is no doubt that, in the main, he is right. There should be no favoritism in the House. Every member of congress should be made to stand upon his own merits. Nevertheless, it will appear rather strange to the average and casual reader that the party which was going to remedy so speedily all abuses in the procedure of the House, in case it was over given an opportunity, should now openly continue them. And it will strike the average and casual reader as being equally strange that the present movement of an insurgent in the direction of reform should be directed toward the reformer who enjoys an unusual privilege rather than toward the present czar who makes the enjoyment of that privilege possible."

THE TRUTH AT LAST.

After weeks of newspaper discussion relative to the pros and cons of the situation that exists at the state university, the Milwaukee Free Press has determined to disclose the true condition of affairs in a series of articles. It is a bit daring for that paper to start, but there is plenty of material for them to work upon and if their labor is not in vain it will work a great and lasting good to the taxpayers of the state at large.

But they should not stop at the political aspect of the affair. Let them delve deeper and look at the morals. Let them disclose some of the disgraceful actions on the part of instructors and faculty members. Let them solve the mysteries of the midnight visitor that prowls about, peeps into windows and enters women's rooms. The authorities have thus far been unable to cope with the situation—perhaps the public can.

That the university has been debauched for political purposes for years is a known fact. That each session of the legislature has seen immense appropriations made for various purposes stands on the records. That the results obtained are not what they should be is the belief of many who have studied the situation and the crusade against the present methods will be welcomed.

Loyal alumni of the university have blinded their eyes to the conditions long enough. They can not hide the material matters longer. The legislature is now in session and it is possible they may see fit to make an investigation of their own. Janesville graduates and former students of the state institution deplore the circumstances that have made such an investigation necessary, but feel that it is for the best good of the institution that is supported by the taxpayers of the state.

To allude with your disclosures Mr. Free Press. Tell all you know and do not slight any of the details. The start is all right and make the finish as sweeping.

THE CELEBRATION.

It is a task to arrange for the celebration of the Fourth of July. It means hours of hard work with no glory for those who handle such an affair. The only way it can be made a success is for everyone to put their shoulder to the wheel and help. The question of financing such an undertaking is not an easy one and especially when it is so ambitious as the present one. It means that several thousand dollars will have to be raised by popular subscription, although the plan for this is to be on a different basis than hitherto, and if the affair is a success the contributors will only have loaned their money. It is time for everyone to boost and make the three days in July ones long to be remembered by the citizens of Janesville and the surrounding country.

TO BE COMPLIMENTED.

The notion of the common council at their first session Monday evening in starting on the work of street improvements should be approved of by all who have the city's best interest at heart. They have hit the popular chord when they begin such work and before they complete their labors they will have the city streets in fairly good condition. Work in cleaning up the gutters and streets in the various wards is progressing rapidly and this is another step towards a better Janesville. All these things count and the council is to be congratulated on their initial start in the task before them.

W. W. Watt, former alderman from the Third ward of this city, went to Reno, Nevada, two years ago, and yesterday was elected alderman of the First ward of that "western city" against the strongest kind of opposition. It takes Janesville push and vim to win out.

Dink has not resigned yet and peace has not been consummated between the federal government and the insurgents. Perhaps Uncle Sam's boys may have a chance to do some invading after all.

Talk about a perpetual peace conference when Emperor William is assembling a hundred thousand German soldiers for "maneuvers."

Ohio is the latest state to have a legislative scandal. Well, what would happen if the reformers could not find something to talk about?

This is a free country. There is no law that compels a man to wear a low-crowned derby if he does not want to.

It is time for a large consignment of good spring sunshine and warm weather to arrive.

Getting a heavy wool clip off the tariff is another example of intensive farming.

Paris takes its riotings with a spirit of gaiety—band playing and so forth and so on.

Krupp engineers have invented an aerial torpedo. Blast be the peace advocates.

PRESS COMMENT.

Very Poor Business.

Shoebuyers Journal: The Wells Fargo express company, with a $5,000,000 investment, pays the railroads 40 or 50 per cent of its earnings and has 10 per cent dividends left, besides a big yearly surplus. If express rates were cut in half, evidently, this company, like the other express companies, would still be making a fair profit.

A Mere Nothing.

Milwaukee Journal: The government is trying to get back land which the Southern Pacific holds in violation of the terms of the grant by which the line was passed. The land in question is worth $40,000,000. We suspect that the railway company will insist on keeping it.

Noisy Victor.

Rockford Register Gazette: The efforts of the socialist party in congress with one intention, to attract as much public attention as either of the other parties seems to be working all right.

No Chance.

Radio News: Six on this yarn that a stranger has been wandering around Chicago trying to give away money. They don't give a stranger in that town a chance to give away money—they take it away from him as soon as they find out he's got it.

Not Serious.

Wausau Record-Herald: The Dutch have taken by mistake an island that belongs to the United States. But Uncle Sam does not get angry about the incident but laughs heartily at the misadventure of the Dutch.

Strong Grounds.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Occasional, by a woman came forward with a questionable excuse for divorce. In this light would seem to be a lady of Hammond, Ind., who wants her marital knot cut because her husband insists on eating green onions and hamburger cheese.

Who'll Be the Goat?

Milwaukee Sentinel: There are heroes and heroes, but we have no hesitation in voting a Carnegie medal to the man who summons up courage enough to wear the first straw hat of the season.

Best Not Tarry.

Monroe Times: President Diaz says he will resign May 5, if he waits that long he may find the insurgents still in the plaza and the back door locked.

Nothing What Some O'er.

Beloit Free Press: The Chicago Tribune has discovered that Mr. Stephenson took out his second papers only forty years before he was elected to the senate. What has that to do with what it cost him?

If you are a wise albatross you won't squat yourself down on the sea and ravenously stare two drowning men in the face, as one of your ancestors did back in the afternoon of the last century. You will hover over them in the rear without their knowledge until they are too weak to fight you, and then—ah, what a meal!

Duncan McCullum, an apprentice on the Ship Emerald, of Liverpool, who was sent aloft to loose the dymall as the vessel rounded Cape Horn, lost his footing, plunged into the sea and was carried far astern. Before H. S. Pochin, an able seaman, who went overboard to his assistance, could reach the apprentice, he sank.

Himself now in danger of drowning, Pochin called for help, and Thomas Averett Whistler, first mate of the Emerald, sprang into the water with a life buoy and succeeded in reaching Pochin before his strength gave out. Together they struggled in the water, awaiting the coming of the ship's boat, which was so long getting under way that they were rapidly becoming exhausted.

Here, Mr. Albatross, is where your ancestor misjudged human nature and lost a luscious dinner. Spying Whistler and Pochin in the water, striving feebly to keep themselves afloat, he boldly swept down into their very faces, righted on the water just out of their reach, and waited for them to grow too weak to resist his attacks. Spurred to renewed energies by this unexpected threat, the two men, who had been on the point of giving up in despair, swung their arms and legs savagely, arousing the circulation of blood within them enough to keep off the fatal cramp until the ship's boat could reach them. Then, safe alike from the sea and the bird, they sank into unconsciousness, and one of them, Whistler, was delirious for days afterward.

Your ancestor, Mr. Albatross, realizing that he had failed in his plans, was furious, and had to be beaten off with a bathhook.

You will hover over them in the rear without their knowledge until they are too weak to fight you, and then—ah, what a meal!

Duncan McCullum, an apprentice on the Ship Emerald, of Liverpool, who was sent aloft to loose the dymall as the vessel rounded Cape Horn, lost his footing, plunged into the sea and was carried far astern. Before H. S. Pochin, an able seaman, who went overboard to his assistance, could reach the apprentice, he sank.

Himself now in danger of drowning, Pochin called for help, and Thomas Averett Whistler, first mate of the Emerald, sprang into the water with a life buoy and succeeded in reaching Pochin before his strength gave out. Together they struggled in the water, awaiting the coming of the ship's boat, which was so long getting under way that they were rapidly becoming exhausted.

Here, Mr. Albatross, is where your ancestor misjudged human nature and lost a luscious dinner. Spying Whistler and Pochin in the water, striving feebly to keep themselves afloat, he boldly swept down into their very faces, righted on the water just out of their reach, and waited for them to grow too weak to resist his attacks. Spurred to renewed energies by this unexpected threat, the two men, who had been on the point of giving up in despair, swung their arms and legs savagely, arousing the circulation of blood within them enough to keep off the fatal cramp until the ship's boat could reach them. Then, safe alike from the sea and the bird, they sank into unconsciousness, and one of them, Whistler, was delirious for days afterward.

Your ancestor, Mr. Albatross, realizing that he had failed in his plans, was furious, and had to be beaten off with a bathhook.

Put seven dollars ($7) in the bank as soon as you can do it; prepare for seasons lean and lank, and you will never rue it. I used to blow my wages in as fast as I could earn them; whenever I had some seeds of tin, I made a rush to burn them. I bought all kinds of raiment, say, and shinning ties and collars; and then one happy, fatful day, I picked seven dollars ($7). I put those roubles down in a bin—no impulse led me to it. And now just take this bunch of mine: Go thou likewise and do it. Those seven bones soon called for more, and oftentimes I had twenty; each week I put in three or four and soon I'll roll in plenty. Since I began this banking, graft my self-respect increases; I feel that I'm as big as Taft, and just as sick as grease is. I am the young man untraded, the youth with glad kyoodle; the whole town wants to get my trade, because I have the bundle. I do not fear the rainy day whereon the

WAS FOUND DEAD IN BED THIS MORNING

August Wobig, Retired Farmer, Passed Away During the Night In Room At Railroad Hotel.

Confined to his bed for the past two days with a combination of illness, August Wobig, a retired farmer was this morning found dead in his room in the Railroad Hotel. On account of the condition of the man's health, his demise was apparently from natural causes and there are no circumstances which might indicate otherwise. Wobig has been a sufferer from heart trouble which affected one of the valves of the heart, and dropsy of the limbs for some time. He had been up and around, however, until two days ago when he was forced to take to his bed. The hour of his death is not known but occurred sometime between ten o'clock last night and six o'clock this morning, when he was found by the night clerk who stopped at the door of the room to inquire how Wobig was feeling. The door of the room was locked, but when entrance to the room was gained a few minutes later his body was cold and it is thought he died about midnight.

Wobig at one time operated a farm in the vicinity of Janesville, but because of family troubles gave up farming and came to this city. For a few years he worked at odd jobs about the city, but for the past two or three years has been unable to attempt tasks requiring any exertion on account of the shortness of his breath. He has made his home for the past seven years at the Railroad Hotel.

Landlord Carpenter notified Chief of Police Appleby of Wobig's death immediately after it was discovered and the district attorney made an investigation. An inquest will not be held. About the only property possessed by Wobig seems to have been a deposit at the First National National bank for three hundred and fifty dollars. A check for the payment of the whole sum of Wobig had been drawn up, but lacked Wobig's signature and an administrator will have to be appointed to dispose of this.

Mr. Wobig was seventy years old and was born in Modro, near Zuehau, Germany. He came to this country and arrived in Janesville, April 27, 1881, purchasing a farm near the city. He was divorced from his wife a number of years ago.

Four children, William, Alfred, Otto and Mrs. Emma Pesko survive him. The funeral will be held from the home of the son, William Wobig, 502 South Jackson street at two o'clock Friday afternoon.

ROAD CASE BEFORE COMMISSION TODAY

Three Men Appointed in Road Construction Controversy Are Hearing Arguments This Afternoon.

Upon appeal from the decision of the supervisors of the town of Janesville, several citizens of that town are this afternoon petitioning for the construction of a highway near Loyden before three commissioners appointed by Judge Sale for that purpose. Some time ago six property-holders of the town of Janesville asked the supervisors of that town for permission to build a highway near the Loyden line. They were refused permission by the supervisors and the petitioners then appealed the case to Judge Sale. By a process of elimination similar to selecting a jury, the court, with an appeal from the decision of the supervisors, selected three men to act in the capacity of a commission to decide the matter.

The two sides of the controversy are being heard by these men this afternoon. They are T. M. B. Gunn, Rock; A. M. Huggins, Rock; and Robert Clark, Janesville.

HALF OF REWARD TO CHIEF FOR CAPTURE

Coldwater Authorities Depart After Paying Chief $150—Children of Prisoner to Get a Part.

One hundred and fifty dollars was the sum paid to Chief of Police Appleby this morning in the shape of a reward for the capture here recently of Orrin Thornton, wanted in Coldwater, Mich., for forgery, the original sum offered being $300. This payment followed the action of Chief Appleby yesterday in bringing suit against the prisoner from Coldwater when the latter refused to pay the reward as offered.

The $150 is in the shape of a settlement out of court and following the payment, the sheriff departed on the 9:15 train for home with Thornton and his wife and children. The impression seemed to have gained headway that the money thus obtained by the chief would either go to the police pension fund or be kept by the chief himself. This is not true and the latter announced this morning that he would divide the one hundred and fifty dollars between the members of the police force, one railroad employee, a deputy sheriff and the children of the prisoner.

The children, three in number, and the wife, have been staying at the home of Chief Appleby during the detention of Thornton at the jail. The case seems to look bad for Thornton although he was perfectly at ease in his cell to have declared his intention of dragging some others into the controversy.

FIVE VETO BILL CLAUSES ARE PASSED BY COMMONS

Most Important Section in Measure to Curtail Power of Lords Is Approved.

London, May 3.—The house of commons, after the application of closure passed by a vote of 299 to 196 clause two of the parliament bill, which is the most important section of the government's measure to curtail the power of the house of lords.

Then clause three of the bill, providing that "any certificate of the speaker of the house of commons given under this act shall be conclusive for all purposes, and shall not be questioned in any court of law," was carried, after closure, by a vote of 256 to 132.

By the aid of closure the remaining clauses, four, five and six, were adopted without amendment by large majorities.

During the debate on clause two the government agreed to accept one or two minor amendments moved by the opposition, but rejected all which would weaken its scope.

This clause relates to any bill other than a money bill, and provides that if any such measure is passed by the house of commons in three successive sessions and is rejected by the house of lords at each of these it shall become an act of parliament on the royal assent.

In amended form it provides that the two years' delay shall be calculated from the date of the passing of the second reading of the bill in the house of commons, which somewhat extends the period in which the lords can delay a bill.

The house adjourned after rejecting the proposed new clauses, thus disposing of the committee stage of the whole bill, with the exception of the preamble.

NOTED SWISS AERONAUT DEAD.

Col. Theodore Schneck, Well Known in America, Succumbs.

Berne, Switzerland, May 3.—Col. Theodore Schneck, the Swiss aeronaut who competed in last year's international balloon meet at St. Louis, is dead here. He piloted the balloon Helvetia, which landed at Ville Marie, Quebec, having covered a distance of 850 miles. The shrill took fourth place in the contest.

PRESENT MUTUALIZATION BILL.

Measure to Aid Equitable Introduced in New York.

Albany, N. Y., May 3.—Chairman Sullivan and Hoy of the insurance committee of the legislature, introduced a bill designed to facilitate the mutualization of the Equitable Life Assurance society. The bill has the approval of the state insurance department, the mutualization committee of the Equitable and the voting trustees representing J. P. Morgan, the majority holder of the Equitable's stock.

At present insurance corporations are prohibited from acquiring or investing in their own stock. The bill authorizes them to invest in such stock in case such acquisition is in furtherance of a plan toward mutualization.

DIRECT VOTE WINS IN OHIO.

Senate Passes Oregon Plan Bill; Goes to Governor Harmon.

Columbus, O., May 3.—After a fight lasting for four months, the state senate passed the Wyman bill providing for the Oregon plan of electing United States senators.

It has passed the house and goes to Governor Harmon for his signature. The act provides that political parties shall name candidates at a general statewide primary and the names shall be placed on the party tickets. Candidates for the legislature may or may not agree to support the choice of the electors as expressed at the polls.

MORMONS OUST A POLYGAMIST.

Excommunicate John W. Taylor as an Answer to Critics.

Salt Lake City, May 3.—Announcement was made by the council of the twelve apostles of the Mormon church that John W. Taylor has been excommunicated "for inordination to the government and discipline of the church."

This action is regarded here as an answer to the protests against the Mormon propaganda now being made in England. Taylor, with Matthias F. Cowley, was ousted as an apostle of the church in 1906 for polygamy. President Joseph F. Smith testified then at the Snoot hearings that Taylor and Cowley each contracted two plural marriages.

The present action is said to have resulted from Taylor's refusal to disavow the practice of polygamy.

$50,000 ROYAL GEMS RESTORED.

Lisbon, May 3.—The Seculo, one of the best informed newspapers of Lisbon, reports that the superintendent of the royal palace has returned to Dowager Queen Maria Pia a magnificent diamond necklace, valued at more than fifty thousand dollars, which she left behind in the Aluda palace in her flight. The necklace was a present from the king of Italy.

The most advanced Republican newspapers attack the government for having returned the jewels and personal effects of the exiled royal family.

Hardware Dealers Bankrupt.

New York, May 3.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy, alleging liabilities of $300,000 and assets of $150,000, was filed here against White, Van Glinn & Co., hardware dealers.

Democrats Are Victorious at Baltimore by a Small Majority.

Baltimore, Md., May 3.—After one of the most closely contested elections on record in Baltimore, James H. Preston, Democrat, has been chosen mayor of Baltimore for the next four years over former Mayor E. Clay Thomas, Republican.

It is impossible to say accurately what the winner's majority will be, but it is now estimated it will not exceed 500.

Noted Educator Passes Away.

Notre Dame, Ind., May 3.—Rev. Martin J. Reagon, C. S. C., a noted educator and who was for 25 years director of discipline at the University of Notre Dame, died at St. Joseph's hospital in South Bend. He was fifty-seven years of age.

The Bible as a Patent Reference.

The late George Seely examined the class of electrical distribution and had charge of electrical conduits during the modern development of that art. An applicant, early in the history of the art, presented a conduit of wood coated inside and out with pitch, and it was promptly refused by Mr. Seely on reference to the fourteenth verse of the sixth chapter of Genesis: "Make thee an ark of Gopher wood."

DIVORCE DECREE AGAINST GATES

Court Frees Wife From Son of Wall Street Millionaire.

New York, May 3.—Charles G. Gates, son of John W. Gates, lost the divorce action that he faced across the continent recently at a cost of $5,000 to prevent his wife from filing in the supreme court.

Mrs. Mary W. Gates, plaintiff in the suit, was sent to her husband's plea. She served him with the complaint, naming a young woman who had a singing part in a Broadway light opera production, and promptly asked for a referee to try the case. Former Justice David Leventritt was appointed to hear the evidence. He reported in Mrs. Gates' favor and Justice Gerard granted her an interlocutory decree.

FORM WIRE BOUND BOX TRUST.

Corporation Representing $50,000,000 Will Control the Trade.

New York, May 3.—Articles of agreement by which a corporation representing $50,000,000 was organized for exclusive control of the wire-bound box trade in the United States and Europe were signed in the office of Charles A. Henderson, who has brought about the consolidation of the various interests. It is asserted that 60 per cent. of all lumber used in this country is used for packing purposes, and since boxes manufactured by the wire-bound process can be made of wood one-half the thickness of nail constructed boxes, the organization will effect a saving of one-half the amount of wood.

MEXICAN INSURRECTOS ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE REPRESENTATIVE OF DIAZ.

Col. L. Alexis de Clairmont, aide to President Don Manuel Estrada of Guatemala and personal representative of President Diaz.

San Francisco, Cal.—The Mexican revolution was carried to the streets of San Francisco on April 14, when an unsuccessful attempt was made by insurrecto agents to assassinate Col. L. Alexis de Clairmont, aide to President Don Manuel Estrada of Guatemala, who is here, acting as commissioner for President Diaz in the purchase of explosives for the federal army.

The attempted killing took place as Colonel Clairmont was walking up the steps of the residence of his sister, Mrs. Alexander de Clairmont, at 1635 Oak street, three shots being fired at him by a man hidden in the foliage of the park grounds across the street.

Colonel Alexis came to San Francisco two weeks ago to negotiate with Dr. N. Barde of 1302 Fillmore street, for the purchase of the patent rights of an explosive powder which the latter had invented. His purpose became known and he was followed by Mexicans all the time. A threatening letter was sent to him, informing him that unless he "ceased his pernicious activity in matters which did not concern him," his health "would be affected." To throw the blow off the trail he slipped away to Comuna county for a week. The instant he arrived he was trailed once more.

Colonel Alexis was born in California and served with the Thirtieth California volunteers in the Philippine islands. He was wounded in that campaign and shortly afterwards went to Guatemala. He has held the positions of chief of staff, chief of the military training school there, and was lately appointed aide to the president. In this capacity he has been the secret agent for the Guatemalan republic.

The police have secured a fair description of a man seen lurking around the park. Apart from the one in the ranks of the local friends of the insurrecto army, Colonel Alexis is the object of attack from political enemies at home and also from former Guatemalan officials at the consulate here whom he had discharged.

BOMB PUT IN DANVILLE SALOON.

Dynamite With Half-Burned Fuse Found in Politician's Place.

Danville, Ill., May 3.—Five one-pound sticks of dynamite, with a fuse attached, were found in the saloon of Louis Goldmann, a prominent Democratic politician, when the saloon was opened for business. The fuse had burned to within a few inches of the dynamite. The police are endeavoring to connect two Danville men with the attempt to blow up the place. Goldmann took a prominent part in the city election two weeks ago, in which his friend, Louis Platt, was defeated for mayor.

Walker after his airplane had turned turtle in a 25-mile wind when he was flying almost a mile a minute. WHY SO WEAK

Kidney Troubles May be Sapping Your Life Away. Janesville People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers headache, dizziness, spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Here is Janesville testimony to prove it. Benjamin Schallert, 269 S. River St., Janesville, Wis., says: "Two years ago I had a great deal of trouble from inactive kidneys. The secretions from my kidneys contained sediment and were otherwise disordered. My back became so lame that it was difficult for me to stoop or lift and I felt all run down. After using Doan's Kidney Pills a short time, these symptoms of kidney complaint disappeared and I enjoyed much better health. I could not be induced to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills were I not certain of their merits."

SWORN OF STRENGTH IN HOUSE OF LORDS.

Viscount Haldane of Cloan, secretary of state and war.

London, England.—In order to re-open by Lord Grey's absence through before the Liberal front bench in the House of Lords, which has been weak-state and war, has been raised to the peerage, taking, it is said, the title of Viscount Haldane of Cloan. His presence in the upper house will lend great interest to the debate when Lord Roberts is to move a resolution on what he describes as "the inadequate military arrangements of the Majesty's government." The new peer has sat in the commons for 25 years as a member for Huddersfield, to which, in his letter to the new Liberal candidate for constituencies, Lord Haldane, he alludes as "one of the most delightful of constituencies." Lord Haldane, as a young man, greatly distinguished himself at Edinburgh university in philosophy and has written several philosophical books, as well as the "Life of Adam Smith" and "Education and Empire." He also spent some time at Gottingen university and later he made a great reputation at the English bar. He is unmarried.

MILTON LOST GAME TO STOUGHTON NINE

Milton High School Met First Defeat in League in Extra Inning Contest Yesterday, 2 to 3.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Milton, May 2.—The local high school lost its first league game today at Stoughton. Milton started off with a rush, scoring two runs in the first inning. Stoughton then tightened up and did not permit another man to cross the plate during the game. Randolph for Milton outpitched Jorde, but his support at critical moments was poor. The result of the game being the result of errors.

Both teams were over-anxious, each realizing that the other team was the strongest contender for the pennant to be met during the season. The game was free from "kicking" and the officials and crowd gave both teams a square deal in every way. The return game at Milton, Friday, May 12, will be a big factor in the pennant race and will be worth going miles to see.

Opening in Central Association.
Burlington, Ia., May 2.—The Central Association of Baseball clubs opened its season today, with Muscatine at Monmouth, Hamilton at Gatesburg, Keosauqua at Keokuk and Ottumwa at Burlington. This season's schedule provides for 140 games, with Sept. 17 as the closing date.

Wisconsin-Illinois League.

Tomorrow the schedule will be reversed in order that the opening games may be played in the other four cities. A season of 120 games is provided for in the schedule.

Lambeth (Eng.) "Old" Church has numerous historic monuments, and in one of the windows is the full length figure of a pedler with his pack, staff and dog. The Ideal Marriage.
When the husband gets ready to regard his wife as an equal partner in the marriage firm instead of an employee with one share in a million-dollar company, or as merely a housekeeper; when he is willing to regard his income as much his wife's as his own and not put her in the position of a beggar for every penny she gets; when he will grant her the same privileges he demands for himself; when he is willing to allow his wife to live her own life in her own way without trying to "boss" her, we shall have more true marriages, happier homes, a higher civilization.—Orison Sweet Marden in Success Magazine.

Brightening the Walls.

Sometimes the physician orders all the pictures removed from the walls, in cases of bad contagion. If this is so try to make up for the lack of brightness by placing here and there bits of scenery as found in the magazines or pictures cut from the Sunday papers and the like. They can be burned afterward and help to divert the patient's mind from his own malady.

Daily Thought.

To have a friend is to have one of the sweetest gifts that life can bring; to be a friend is to have a solemn and tender education of soul from day to day.—Anna Robertson Brown.

Make Others Happy.

When you rise in the morning form a resolution to make the day a happy one to a fellow-creature. It is easily done; a left-off garment to the woman who needs it, a kind word to the sorrowful, an encouraging expression to the striving—trifles in themselves light as air—will do it, at least for the 24 hours, and if you are young depend upon it it will tell when you are old and if you are old it will send you gently and happily down the stream of human time to eternity.

Sea and Land Miles.

In considering the speed of a steamship it must be remembered that a knot or nautical mile, is a very different thing from a land mile. A mile is 5,280 feet, while a knot is 6,080 feet and a fraction.

Wanted—A Mother.

The Cook County hospital, Chicago, wants a "mother," and has sent out a list of the requirements for such a person. She must be a real mother in the sense of having children; she must be gentle, firm and kind, and capable of looking after the kitchen; she must not serve cold meats and must know all about domestic affairs; she must know food values and must be diplomatic, even-tempered and a good "boss."

SACRIFICE LIFE TO SAVE INNOCENT MAN FROM LIFE IMPRISONMENT.

Dr. Haldane Cleminson in center. Below, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Isiah Cleminson. At top, the two sons of Dr. Cleminson.

Chicago, Ill.—The dramatic confession of Mrs. Anna Schmidt of St. Louis may save Dr. Haldane Cleminson, convicted wife-poisoner from the penitentiary. Within a few days Cleminson was to begin serving a life sentence. He may now be able to get another way until the testimony of Mrs. Schmidt is considered.

According to Mrs. Schmidt's own testimony she urged Dr. Cleminson to use her testimony in substantiating an alibi, but he sturdily refused her help on the ground that his life was of no more value than her reputation. At the last moment she took the initiative herself and made the confession to her husband and to the aged father of Dr. Cleminson.

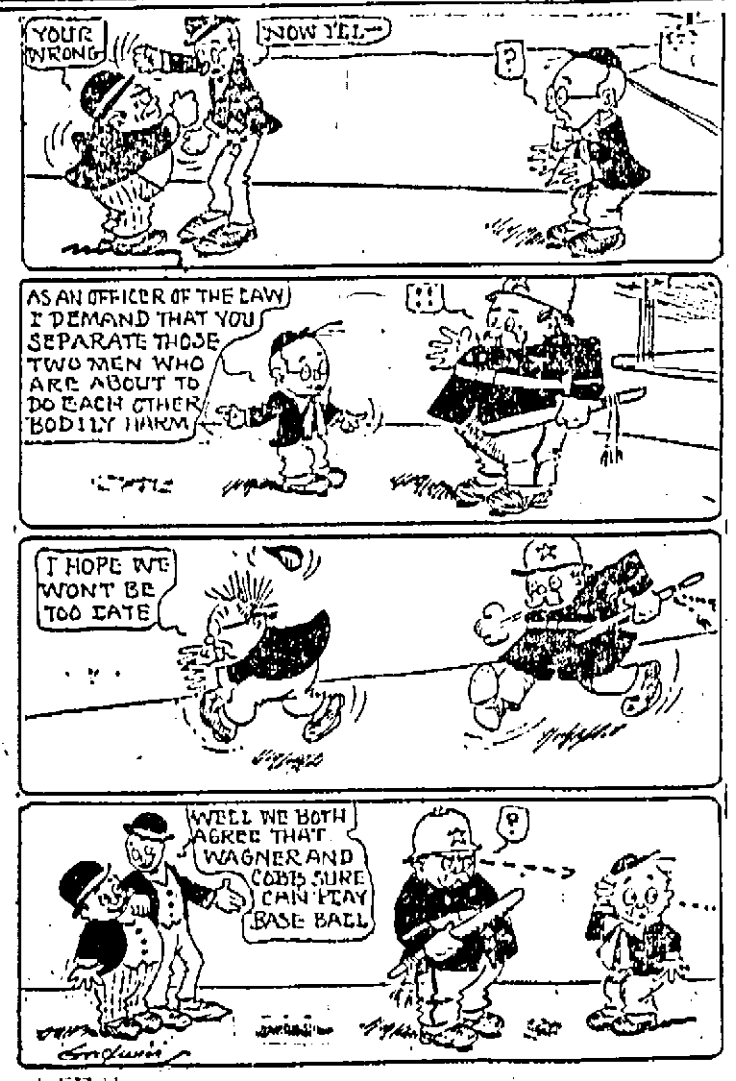

The Cleminson trial attracted unusual attention throughout its course. The pathetic figures of the aged father and mother and their steadfast belief in the innocence of Dr. Cleminson were constantly in mind. Circumstantial evidence, however, was so strong and pointed so directly to the doctor that the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

FOUGHT IN THREE WARS; HEALTHY AT NINETY SIX YEARS

James A. Rapp, Ninety-Six Years Old, Marinette Man, Pays Annual Visit to Daughter at Porter.

Looking not a day over seventy and with a stop which belies his years, James A. Rapp, the ninety-six years old veteran of three wars, has just completed a week's visit with his daughter, Mrs. A. Whitteyer of Porter, making the trip from his home in Marinette unaccompanied. His mind is as clear and his laugh as cheery and true as it was fifty years ago and his memory only runs back with surprising detail to the incidents of his first service under the stars and stripes when he fought on a dozen different Mexican battlefields. This trip to Rock county is only one of many such taken in the years past and instead of growing feeble and showing his advanced years his wit grows keener and his thought seems to become more distinct regarding his past life.

Report has had it upon several occasions that the last of the veterans of the Mexican war had passed away and that there was not another survivor, but not only is Mr. Rapp a living denial of this rumor but he also says that there are several hundred of them beside himself. The first kindles in his eye when he recounts the story of his first service, how in 1837 he enlisted to help put down the Seminole war in Florida. A more youth he tramped the swamps and deep ravines after the hidden foe with a regiment from New York State.

Then came the war with Mexico and his short but thrilling time spent on the sun-baked plains of that torrid region. Here he fought under the leadership of "Zack" Taylor and many are his tales of the battles and campaigns which followed. Then came the Civil war and his long years of service under the flag he loved so well. Better than any of his battles against the foe of his country are victories over Father Time and the effects of old age.

His clearness of thought and brilliancy of wit was well shown by an incident during his recent visit in this county. Upon being asked by his daughter whether or not he had slept well he said, "Well, my daughter, I never woke up to see."

Mr. Rapp was born at Fort Stanwix, New York, on October 13, 1815, and his first enlistment was with the Second United States Artillery at the time of the Seminole uprising in Florida. In the spring of 1842 he walked from Cold Springs, New York, to Philadelphia a distance of six hundred miles, with the intention of going to sea as a sailor. Abandoning this as a career, he again enlisted in the army

Advertising Like Electricity

So many business men who advertise today, not even excepting some of the biggest National Advertisers in the United States, understand but little about their advertising, and they are frank to acknowledge it. Like electricity, they know the effects, but they do not know how to analyze it. The latest plan in advertising today is to try out an aggressive campaign in a small territory, and watch for results. Similar methods should be used in local advertising. A retail merchant whose idea of advertising wanted to use a small space every day in the week to push a certain article which was hardly known of in this section. He advised large space but once a week, spending no more money than he intended to spend in small space, because the article for sale needed explanation, argument and analysis, and this could not be done in a small ad. The campaign was a success. The merchant had never been an advertiser before. He recently wrote us saying that he felt heartily thankful for our advice and cooperation, and ended his letter by saying that today he considered his advertising more necessary to the GROWTH of his business than any other thing for which he spent money.

and was stationed at Governor's Island at the time of the Mexican war. After the Mexican trouble he joined his family and moved to Fond du Lac where he was living at the time the Civil war broke out.

He has accomplished some startling feats in walking and it was only in 1889 that he covered the distance on foot from Marinette to Cincinnati in twenty seven and one-half days, to attend the national Grand Army Encampment. Following this he rode from Marinette to Philadelphia on a bicycle in exactly thirty days.

The aged veteran is a distinct type of the old soldier and will not admit for one minute that he is reaching old age. He is now making plans to attend the reunion of veterans at Boston in July and also intends to visit comrades in other eastern cities.

RESOLUTIONS MADE SCORING McVEAGH

Local G. A. R. Draft Strong Resolutions Following Remarks Of Secretary McVeagh Concerning Pensioners.

W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, Wisconsin G. A. R., through a committee have drafted resolutions which they will forward to the congressman from this district, following an address by Secretary McVeagh of the United States Treasury in Philadelphia recently. In this speech, the secretary took an antagonistic attitude toward the increase in pensions for old soldiers and used terms in regard to the survivors of the great struggle of 1861 which it is alleged have been resented all over the country. Following is a draft of the resolutions drawn up by the local post.

Whereas, having knowledge of a recent address made by Secretary McVeagh of the United States Treasury, relative to the Grand Army of the Republic and the pension roll, at which time said McVeagh took occasion to denounce the old soldier as a pensioner, saying that the pension roll was and is a discredit to the country, therefore be it Resolved, by W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, Department of Wisconsin, G. A. R., at this regular meeting of the post, that they deplore in the deepest possible manner the unwise and unpatriotic action of the said secretary, or any other person accepting so prominent a position at our national capital.

Resolved, that words fail to express our deep and prompt contempt against the man who would utter any thing of ill repute to the young boys of '61 and '65 who made it possible for the existence and maintenance of our common country over which old glory floats.

Resolved, that with one accord we ask the removal from office of the said McVeagh who has seen fit to disgrace himself and to attack the nation's defenders at its time of peril.

Resolved, that all offenders at the time of the great war of the rebellion remained at home to enrich their personal coffers while the loyal soldier and sailor boys were so willing by offering their services to their country and who were at the front battling for the right and suffering the agonies of the prison pen, he scorned their efforts and deemed unworthy to be called American Citizens.

Resolved, that a copy of these deliberations be forwarded to our representative in congress.

PACKED HOUSE FOR "MADAME SHERRY"

Myers Theatre Resounds to Strains of "Dublin Rag" and "Every Little Movement."

With the strains of "Every Little Movement" and "The Dublin Rag" ringing in their ears, one of the largest audiences of the season left the Myers theatre last evening, having witnessed the presentation of the clever and musical comedy, "Madame Sherry," by a company of excellent players. Rarely has a more clean cut and well balanced company played in Janesville and this fact coupled with the extraordinary responsive attitude of the listeners made it the unquestionable success of the year in this city.

The name of the story and its theme which runs through the piece both in words and music, has been heralded over the country. The piece, the niece of the eccentric Theophilus Sherry, emerging from a convent goes through the stages of a love affair which are traced out in the music. From an utter ignorance of the feelings of love she receives her first thrill upon meeting her cousin, Edward, and from then on to the final burst of passion, the several stages of jealousy and anger, delight and joy are worked out in the music so familiar to everyone. While the plot is typical of the light and airy musical comedy with its so arranged to make it stand out in a class by itself as original and unique.

The comedy is furnished by the entanglements resulting from the attempts of the nephew of old Sherry to make him believe that he is possessed of a wife and two children, and a passion for music while he has none of these items. The accompanying scenic effects on board of the yacht were splendid especially the last scene where the boat is anchored off Coney Island.

Yvonne, the niece, played by Ada Mead was perfection itself and upon her first entrance she had won the audience by her clever manner. Ben Grimes as Philippe, the jester, was in a class by himself and made a decided hit with his character work and dancing. Another who stood out prominently as a character artist of great ability was Dallas Wellford in the role of the uncle, Theophilus Sherry. Virginia Houston brought down the house with her singing of the "Dublin Rag" and "Put Your Arms Around Me, Honey" as did Estelle Thibault in her songs and dances in the character of Pepita, Leonard's sweetheart. Ned McCoy as Edward the "musical" nephew and Lillian Tucker as Lulu, another the exponent of "Every Little Movement" completed the list of people who went to make "Madame Sherry" one of the biggest things that has fallen to the lot of Janesville theatre goers to see.

Formed Strange Attachment. At an hotel at Belvedere, in Kent, England, a strange friendship has gradually grown between a spaniel, a terrier, a black kitten, and a bantam cock, all of which sleep together each night in the same kennel and are good chums throughout the day.

Ostrich Feathers Not Pulled. It is a mistaken popular impression that ostrich feathers are pulled. This is wrong. The plumes are cut about every eight months or so, and a keen edged knife is used in the operation. After the cutting the stumps lose life, wither and fall out.

WATT ELECTED TO THE RENO COUNCIL BY NEAT MAJORITY

Former Janesville Alderman Will Now Help Govern the Western City. He Makes His Home in.

In the following dispatch received this morning from Reno, Nevada, the story of one of the hottest political battles of years is told in a few lines with "a former alderman, William Watt, as the victor.

Reno, Nevada, May 2, 1911. Daily Gazette.

W. W. Watt was elected alderman of the First ward, defeating Senator Holmes by 32 votes. Holmes was backed by United States Senator McBride's powerful machine gang.

Watt's house to Holmes' canvass did it. It is Senator Holmes' first defeat in twelve years.

The morning papers today print Watt's picture and devote a column to his phenomenal run. William Watt went to Reno two years ago last January. Engaged in the real estate and insurance business with another former resident of Janesville, Walter Pilefield, Mr. Watt has in the Western term "made good."

His opponent in the present race was State Senator Holmes who has never been defeated in his twenty years in politics. He was backed by the strong Nixon machine which turned all its guns on Watt and his campaign in vain as the vote showed. The position calls for a salary of twelve hundred dollars for the term aside from all sorts of perquisites which make it quite a lucrative position.

In writing to friends about his campaign Mr. Watt said that he was making a house to house canvass of the voters. That friends had donated the use of their autos for the election day and were doing all they could to aid him. There was a large percentage of Italians in his ward and Mr. Watt wrote he had to study Italian to talk with them.

The Reno papers in scarce hands announced recently that Watt was running like a scared wolf and that his opponent had been forced to telegraph to Senator Nixon at Washington for aid.

Watt's many Janesville friends will be glad to hear of his success in his political endeavors in the West and the prominence that his election will give him.

RETURNED SPECIAL VERDICT IN CASE

Circuit Court Jury Awarded James G. Monahan $8,000 in Suit Against Fairbanks-Morse Company of Beloit.

After deliberating for three hours and a half the jury in the case of James G. Monahan against the Fairbanks-Morse Company of Beloit, brought in a special verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $8,000, finding the defendant guilty of gross negligence in not placing proper safeguards about some of the machinery to protect the workmen. Monahan sued the company for injuries received while working in the Beloit plant on November 10, 1909, while oiling the gears of a machine. His clothing became caught on a set screw on one of the gears and he was whirled about with the motions of the gear. The plaintiff claimed he had received permanent injuries and held that the company was negligent, not providing necessary safeguards or warning workmen when the work was unsafe. The defense produced a small working model of this machine in court to show that it was impossible for anyone to become entangled in the machine as charged by the plaintiff. The testimony for the plaintiff, however, showed that a wooden collar, which afforded the protection claimed by the Fairbanks-Morse Company, was not in place when the accident occurred. The case went to the jury at half past four o'clock yesterday afternoon and a verdict was brought in at eight last evening.

DAIRYING
"Stanley Country"
The cut-over Hardwood Lands in the Stanley Country have all the natural conditions necessary for successful dairying, such as climate, soil, pure water and an abundance of clover and wild grasses. When the timber is cut, the clover becomes King and creates pasture unsurpassed anywhere, thus paying for the expense of preparing the soil for the raising of small grains, etc. Wisconsin has over one thousand creameries and nearly two thousand cheese factories, which is one-half of the creameries and one-sixth of the cheese factories in the whole United States.
THE STUMP PROBLEM IS NOW SOLVED
This was formerly the one obstacle that the new settler in Wisconsin had to contend with. What drainage and irrigation did for the south and west, the powerful land clearing machines, clearing from three to five acres a day, will do for the cut-over lands in Wisconsin.
Why go thousands of miles away from your old home and settle on the expensive lands of the west and south when good fertile lands can be had at $15.00 per acre in the high priced communities within a few hours' ride from the world's best markets.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Van der Wurff finds it isn't always wise to judge a stage beauty by her pictures.

(Copyright, A. C. McClurg & Co., 1910.)

"I hope not," he managed to say in answer to her query. "But it is rather a strange mix-up all around, and I confess I fail to comprehend its full meaning. It is hardly likely your friends will show up to-night, and by morning perhaps we can decide what is best to do. Let me look around outside a moment."

Her eyes followed him as he stepped through the door into the darkness; then her head dropped into the support of her hands. There was silence except for the crackling of the fire, until Ned moved uneasily. At the sound the girl looked up, seeing clearly the good-natured face of the negro. "You don't need me, Missus," he said soberly, "as long as Maana Jack done 'greed to look after you'."

"Have—have you known him long?" "I have known him long, honey. Ebber since hefo' de wiah. Why I done knowed Maana Jack when he wasn't more'n dat high. Lawd, he sho' was a lively youngster, but mighty good hearted to us niggers."

She hesitated to question a servant, and yet felt she must uncover the truth.

"Who is he? Is he all he claims to be—a Virginia gentleman?" "All the toady and pride of slavery days was in Neb."

"He sho' am, Missus; dar ain't nuthin' higher in ol' Virginia dan de Keiths. 'Dee ain't got much money, sence the Yankees come down dar, but dey's quality folks jes' de same. I was done born on de ol' Colne's plantation, and I reck'n dar wan't no finer man ebber lived. He was done killed in de wiah. An' Maana Jack he was a captain; he rode on horseback, an' Lawdy, but he did look awfully fine when he first got his uniform. He done fought all through de wiah, an' dey say Gural Lee done shook hands wid him, an' said how proud he was ter know him. 'You kin out-lye tis to Maana Jack, Missus.'"

The negro's voice had scarcely ceased when Keith came in again, closing the door securely behind him.

"All quiet outside," he announced, speaking with new confidence. "I wanted to get an understanding of the surroundings in case of emergency," he explained, as if in answer to the questioning of the brown eyes gravely split to his face. "I see there is quite a corral at the lower end of this island, safely hidden behind the fringe of cottonwoods. And a log stable back of the house. Is the creek fordable both ways?"

"I think so; the man who brought me here rode away south."

"And are you going to trust yourself to my care?" She came around the table with hands extended. He took them into his grasp, looking down into her eyes. "Yes," she said softly. "I am going to trust you, Captain Keith."

He laughed. "Captain, hey? You must have been talking with that black rascal there."

The swift color flooded her face, but her hands remained impassive. "I just done told her who de Keiths was done in ol' Virginia, sah," burst in Ned indignantly. "I sho' don't want nobody to think I go trapin' round wid any low white trash."

The gray eyes and the brown, gazing into one another, smiled with understanding.

"Oh, well," Keith acknowledged, gently. "I cannot say I am sorry you know something of my past glories; if one can't have a future, it is some source of pride to have a past to remember. But now about the present. We're not much protection to any one, the way we're fixed, as we are unarmed."

"There is a big revolver hanging in a holster in the other room," she answered, "and a short, sawed-off gun of some kind, but I don't know about ammunition."

"May we investigate?" "Most certainly," and she threw open the intervening door. As the two stepped into the other apartment she held the lamp in aid of their search.

"There is the revolver on the wall, and the gun is in the opposite corner. Isn't it strange you should be out in this country without arms?"

Keith glanced up, the revolver in his hands. The radiance of the light was full upon her face, revealing the clearness of her skin, the dark shadows of her lashes. There was the faintest tinge of suspicion to the question, but he answered easily.

"We left Carson in something of a hurry. I'll tell you the story to-morrow."

CHAPTER X.

Mr. Hawley Reveals Himself.

A fragment of candle, stuck tightly into the neck of an empty bottle, appeared on a low shelf, and Keith lighted it, the girl returning the lamp to its former position on the front room table. Investigation revealed a dozen cartridges fitting the revolver, but no ammunition was discovered adapted to the sawed-off gun, which Ned had already appropriated, and was dragging about with him, peering into each black corner in anxious search. The two were still busily employed at this, when to their ears, through the stillness of the night, there came the unexpected noise of splashing in the water without, and then the sound of a horse stumbling as he struck the bank. Quick as a flash Keith closed the intervening door, extinguished the dim flame of the candle, and grasping the startled negro's arm, hushed him into silence.

Crouching close behind the door, through a crack of which the light streamed, yielding slight view of the interior, the plainman anxiously awaited developments. These arrivals must certainly be some of those connected with the house; there could be little doubt as to that. Nevertheless, they might prove the posse following them, who had chanced to stumble accidentally on their retreat. In either case they could merely wait, and learn. Some one swore without, and was sharply rebuked by another voice, which added an order gruffly. The outer latch clicked, and a single man stepped within, immediately closing the door. Keith could not see the girl through the small aperture, but he heard her quick exclamation, startled, yet full of relief.

"Oh, is it you? I am so glad!" The man laughed lightly.

"It is nice to be welcomed, although, perhaps, after your time of loneliness any arrival would prove a relief. Did you think I was never coming, Christie?"

"I could not understand," she replied, evidently with much less enthusiasm, and to Keith's thinking, a shade resentful of the familiarity, "but naturally supposed you must be unexpectedly delayed."

"Well, I was," and he apparently ducked both coat and hat on a bench, with the intention of remaining. "The der' co'mitted' out on the Santa Fe Trail, and required me as a witness. But the man got away before we had any chance to try him, and I have been on his trail ever since."

"A murder! Did you imagine he came this way?" "Not very likely; fact of it is, the sand storm yesterday destroyed all traces, and, as a result, we've lost him. So I headed a few of the boys over in this direction, as I wanted to relieve you of anxiety."

She was silent an instant, and the man crossed to the fireplace, where Keith could gain a glimpse of him. Already suspicious from the familiar sound of his voice, he was not surprised to recognize "Black Bart." The plainman's fingers gripped the negro's arm, his eyes burning. So this gumbler and blacking was the gentlemanly Mr. Hawley, was he; well, what could be his little game? Why had he inveigled the girl into this lonely spot? And what did he now propose doing with her? As he crouched there, peering through that convenient crack in the door, Keith completely forgot his own peril, intent only upon this new discovery. She came slowly around the end of the table, and stood leaning against it, her face clearly revealed in the light of the lamp. For the first time Keith really perceived its beauty, its fresh charm. Could such a she be a slinger and dancer in a frontier concert hall? And if so, what strange conditions ever drove her into that sort of life?

"Is—Is Fred with you?" she questioned, doubtfully.

"No; he's with another party riding farther west," the man's eyes surveying her with manifest approval. "You are certainly looking fine to-night, my girl. It's difficult to understand how I ever managed to keep away from you so long."

She flushed to the hair, her lips trembling at the open boldness of his tone.

"I prefer you would not speak like that," she protested.

"And why not?" with a light laugh. "Come, Christie, such fine airs are a trifle out of place. If I didn't know you were a concert hall artist, I might be more deeply impressed. As it is, I reckon you've heard love words before now."

"Mr. Hawley, I have trusted you as a gentleman. I never came here except on your promise to bring me to my brother," and she stood erect before him. "You have no right to even assume that I am Christie Maclellan."

"Sure not; I don't assume. I have seen that lady too often to be mistaken. Don't try on that sort of thing with me—I don't take to it kindly."

Teacher's Curriculum.

A teacher in one of the poorest districts of London stated at a meeting of the Educational Handwork Association at the Society of Arts that he desired to see his boys taught by industrial methods. "I should like to teach my boys to wash," he added. "I want the London County Council to send me some needles, reels of cotton, and trouser buttons."

He took a step forward, as though proposing to carry out his threat, but the girl stopped him, her eyes burning with indignation.

"How dare you!" she exclaimed passionately, all fear leaving her in sudden resentment. "You think me alone here and helpless; that you can insult me at your pleasure. Don't go too far, Mr. Hawley. I know what you are now, and it makes no difference what you may think of me, or call me; you'll find me perfectly able to defend myself."

"Oh, indeed!" sneeringly, "you are melodramatic; you should have been an actress instead of a slinger. But you waste your talent out here on me. Do you imagine I fear either you, or your precious brother? Why, I could have him hung to-morrow."

She was staring at him with wide open eyes, her face white.

"What—what do you mean? What has Fred done?"

"That makes no difference; it is what I could induce men to swear he had done. It's easy enough to convict in this country, if you only know how. I simply tell you this, so you won't press me too hard. Puritanism is out of place west of the Missouri, especially among ladies of your profession. Oh, come, now, Christie, don't try to put such airs on with me. I know who you are, all right, and can guess why you are hunting after Fred Willoughby. I pumped the boy, and got most of the truth out of him."

"You—you have seen him, then, when you left me," she faltered, bewildered, "and didn't bring him here with you?"

"Why should I?" and the man stepped forward, his eyes on her, his hands twitching with a desire to clasp her to him, yet restrained by some undefinable power. "While I believed your brother story, I could have played the good Samaritan most beautifully, but after I talked with Willoughby I prefer him at a distance."

"My brother story! Do you mean to insinuate you doubt his being my brother? He told you that?"

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use, and in a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."

Another Grateful Woman. Huntington, Mass.—"I was in a nervous, run down condition and for three years could find no help. I owe my present good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier which I believe saved my life."

It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

Erudite Physician. A western physician received the following from a brother physician: "Dear Doc: I have a patient whose physical shows that the windpipe has ulcerated off and his lungs have dropped into his stomach. I have given him everything without effect. His father is wealthy honorable and influential as he is a member of assembly and god now I don't want to lose him what shall I do and by return mail. Yours truly, Doc Fishbein."
